School Safety

We know when you drop your child off for school each day, you are putting your trust in us to keep them safe. Protecting every student is a priority that is woven into the fabric of how the Scottsdale Unified School District works to deliver an exceptional educational experience. Placing school resource officers, school counselors and school social workers on school campuses is only part of our approach to achieving safe supportive schools.

Our safety motto is DIG-IT (Doors, Identification, Gates and IT (cyber security)).

The expectation is that classroom doors are locked and not propped open, students and staff wear their ID badges and that all visitors show ID and sign in in the front office. All gates on campus should also be locked unless they are manned.

The Scottsdale Unified School District is a leader in the state and nation when it comes to threat assessments and interventions. Comprehensive School Threat Assessment Guidelines \(CSTAG\) is an evidence-based practice for schools to use in conducting threat assessments of students developed by Dr. Dewey Cornell, University of Virginia, and adopted by the Arizona Department of Education. Scottsdale's own Shannon Cronn, Director of Support Services, is one of 27 CSTAG trainers available to provide training to Arizona schools.

School Safety

The safety of our students and staff is our top priority. The placement of School Resource Officers, school counselors and school social workers on SUSD school campuses is only part of our approach to achieve and maintain safe, supportive schools.

School Security

Campus security professionals assigned to our campuses build relationships with the students and get to know their school communities. Those relationships are critical to their success in recognizing when something or someone is out of place and an immediate response is required.

Parents, send your kids for first-class elementary education in Scottsdale

"Teachers send their own kids here, parents who were once volunteers have picked up permanent positions and retired community members have become beloved staff members."

— Principal Dr. Amanda Rand

BY JOLENE NOLTE

If you're a parent of elementary aged children, you have excellent options for schools in the Scottsdale Unified School District. Even if you live outside the district area, you can apply for your child's enrollment in an SUSD school, and enrollment varies based on capacity by grade level.

Redfield Elementary: "A hidden gem"

We spoke with principal Dr. Amanda Rand of Redfield Elementary. When she gives parents tours of Redfield, "I always begin by telling them that Redfield is a hidden gem." She came to Redfield after years of working in SUSD schools because of its "great reputation across the district. It's always been known as a strong community school with a positive, inclusive environment," Dr. Rand says.

A distinctive of Redfield is its diversity and community involvement. "We have nearly 20 languages represented here. It's a beautiful balance of students," Dr. Rand says. Redfield offers the Comprehensive Gifted Program, which is an accelerated, self-contained, multi-age program, meaning the students who are accepted into the program receive teaching all day every day from gifted certified teachers. The school also offers special education where learning incorporates daily integrated language development, integrated sensory stimulation, academic skill development and social skill development. In addition, Redfield launched their Afterschool Academy, which offers programs in robotics, arts & crafts, and reader's theater.

Most of all, what makes Redfield distinct is its family feel and community warmth. "Teachers send their own kids here, parents who were once volunteers have picked up permanent positions and retired community members have become beloved staff members," Dr. Rand says. To book a tour or to learn more about Redfield, visit <https://www.susd.org/Page/3750> or call (480) 484-4000.

Laguna Elementary: Innovative education

Scottsdale Unified School District's vision is "Engaging all students in world-class, future-focused learning." Laguna Elementary, a Cognia STEM certified school, adopted the STEAM program to embody this vision.

STEAM stands for Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Mathematics. "Using STEAM education results in students taking risks, problem-solving, collaborating, communicating, and working through creative processes, when a problem persists," principal Dr. Gena Aikman explains.

Dr. Gena Aikman has been a school administrator for 18 years and is dedicated to supporting the outstanding educators, students and parents at Laguna Elementary. Her colleague Stephanie Shamy with other teachers, staff, and the school community, were instrumental in embracing the STEAM initiative.

"Students who engage in hands-on, project based learning remember better," Stephanie adds, whether it's designing prosthetics or becoming an architect to apply math and engineering skills.

The school also houses a Makerspace Lab. "Makerspaces are dedicated areas where students can use hands-on techniques and tools to make something new, discover problems and solutions, and learn how discrete skills and concepts can be applied to real-life. Laguna is one of a few elementary schools to have a specialized Makerspace," Dr. Aikman says.

Stephanie adds, Laguna has a one-of-a-kind "Makerspace" that offers students a unique experience to design and create.

What's more, Dr. Aikman adds, "In addition to being a STEAM school, we would like the community to know that our staff consistently demonstrates a 'culture and climate' to serve and support all students by promoting a safe, supportive, and innovative educational experience. Besides being an innovative school, Laguna offers enrichment programs which include Lego Club, Robotics, Makerspace Club, Drama Club, Science Club, Technology Club, and after school tutoring."

To find out more about Laguna Elementary, please book a tour. Please visit the Laguna Elementary website for open house events at <https://www.susd.org/Domain/25> or call 480-484-2400.

Scottsdale Unified School District, to which Redfield and Laguna Elementary belong, is part of the CITYSunTimes Preferred Business Program.

LEGACY OF SUCCESS

For 125 years, the Scottsdale Unified School District has prided itself on helping students dig deep and dream big, cultivating civic leaders and inspiring innovators, entrepreneurs, artists and athletes.

An education in SUSD prepares students for careers not yet imagined in a world of limitless opportunities. Our graduates go on to lead, educate, advocate, and create. They are empowered to do so because of the engaged learning that takes place in our classrooms that forges the love for learning that is essential to success in college and career. Dedicated teachers and staff ensure each student has the same opportunities to flourish. Integral to student success is believing in themselves so they might be bold and dare to inspire and reimagine what is possible for this generation and the next.

We are tremendously proud of the impact our alumni make, locally and globally. They are transformative in their communities and careers. Their stories are our stories, their success is our success. They serve to inspire our students every day!

We are also excited about the way this tool supports our strategic plan goals, specifically:

2.1 Develop and sustain trust-based environments within classrooms, schools, and throughout the district.

4.3 Create and expand opportunities for stakeholder collaboration to inform school and district decisions.

5.4 Develop and implement a marketing plan that reflects and enhances the SUSD brand.

5.5 Optimize digital technology systems to increase efficiency and improve access for all stakeholders.
